T.V.R Nagar, Madurai

To,
God

Respected God,

I hope you are listening to my prayers. I am writing this letter to thank you for all the blessings you have given me. You have filled my life with love, care, and opportunities to learn and grow.

Sometimes life becomes difficult, and I feel confused or worried. At those moments. I look up to you for guidance and strength. Please give me courage to face challenges and wisdom to make the right decisions.

I pray not only for myself but also for my family, friends, and everyone around the world. May there be peace, happiness, and kindness everywhere. Help those who are suffering and give them hope.

Thank you for the beauty of nature, the light of the sun, and the joy in small moments. I promise to be kind, honest, and hardworking in everything I do.

Please always stay with me and guide me on the right path.

Yours faithfully,
S. Vairalingam

Slogans on Women Empowerment

- Empower a woman, empower a nation.
- Strong women build a stronger world.
- Equality today for a better tomorrow.
- A woman's strength is the nation's pride.
- Respect women, respect humanity.
- She believed she could, so she did.
- Give her wings, let her fly high.
- Women are the real architects of society.
- No limits, no barriers—only equality.
- Educate a woman, empower generations.
- Her voice matters, let it be heard.
- Women are powerful beyond measure.
- Break the bias, build equality.
- Behind every successful society is empowered women.
- Let women shine, the world will glow.

POSTER MAKING

Poem on Nature

In the hush of dawn's first glow,
Nature hums a song so slow.
Golden rays on petals fall,
Waking life in one soft call.

The wind writes tales upon the trees,
Dancing lightly with the breeze.
Leaves applaud in gentle cheer,
As hidden melodies appear.

A river laughs in silver streams,
Carrying whispers, hopes, and dreams.
Mountains guard the sky so blue,
Holding secrets old yet true.

Butterflies in colors bright,
Paint the air with joyful flight.
Flowers smile in morning dew,
Wearing diamonds fresh and new.

When the sun begins to rest,
Nature glows in amber dressed.
Stars then light the silent night,
Dreaming worlds in silver light.

Oh, listen close—you'll hear it too,
A timeless song both pure and true.
For nature speaks in every way,
If hearts are calm enough to stay.

Introduction

Plastic has become an essential part of of our daily lives due to its conveniencee and low cost. However, its excessive use has created serious environmental problems. It takes hundreds of years to decompose, causing harm to nature, animals, and humans. Therefore, it is important to say no to plastic and adopt eco-friendly

Harmful Effects of Plastic

Plastic pollution affects land, water, and air. It clogs drainage systems, leading to flooding during rains. In oceans, marine animals often mistake plastic for food, which can be deadly. Burning plastic releases toxic gases, causing air pollution and health issues like respiratory diseases.

Impact on Environment

Plastic does not decompose easily and remains in the environment for years. It reduces soil fertility and pollutes water bodies. Microplastics have even entered the food chain, affecting both wildiffe and human health. This leads to long-term environmental damage.

Alternatives to Plastic

We can replace plastic with eco-friendly materials such as cloth bags, paper bags, jute bags, and biodegradable products. Using steel or glass containers instead of plastic ones can also reduce plastic waste. Choosing reusable items is a simple yet effective step.

Role of Individuals

Every individual plays an important role in reducing plastic use. We should carry reusable bags, avoid single-use plastics, and spread awareness among others. Small changes in our daily habits can make a

Government Initiatives

Governments around the world are taking steps to reduce plastic usage by banning single-use plastics help encourage people to switch to sustainable alternatives.
